

Joel & Amy Maute
Port Washington, NY

December 15, 2011

Dear prospective clients,

To highly recommend Rony Philipson and North Shore Signature Homes would be an understatement. When we undertook a large kitchen and dining room expansion project including basement, patio, and siding work, we were looking for a competitively priced contractor who would pay attention to the extra details. Each contractor we spoke with assured us they would personally be at the project each and every day, yet any references provided could not back up this claim. Rony, on the other hand was in fact at our house every day as promised for the entire 4+ month duration. As the project progressed, we began to realize that Rony was actually more concerned about the final outcome than we were. He provided insight into the nuances of the project that one may expect to find from a kitchen designer, not a contractor. Another asset that can only be appreciated upon project completion is his attention to detail. We were fortunate enough to have Rony custom build our cabinets and the end product was nothing short of a masterpiece. The custom built bookshelf in the island, the arch over the window, and the complimenting molding all around are details that can truly be appreciated when you are standing back admiring the work. The same can be said for the installation of new Hardi siding around the the entire house, which has made our 60 year old home look new again. In our search for the ideal contractor, we were given many names of those who could do an adequate job, but none came with the stellar recommendation we can now give Rony. If you are looking for a contractor whose finished product will exceed your expectations, contact Rony Philipson at North Shore Signature Homes so he can showcase for you the exquisite work he and his crew is capable of.

Amy & Joel Maute